

Rigotondo is a nursery school located in the Brera district, provided with unusual spaces and out of the box scenarios.

The environment is drawn and shaped around the child who is pampered and stimulated by exciting games and activities in a bright and exclusive atmosphere. For these reasons, in the last years Rigotondo presents itself to the Fuori Salone audience as a service for the Brera Design District little guests with creative workshops and entertainment activities in order to permit to their parents to visit the other Fuori Salone events.

Rigotondo is an established reality within the Brera district that has gained the confidence of their clients by offering innovative and quality proposals never forgetting that the key players are the kids and their stories.